EXPERIENCE

2018 - 2020

FRONT-END DEVELOPER

DEV51, BUCHAREST

I started off as an intern, working on a few landing pages, and for a year now I've been working on mainly 2 large projects, one of which mainly involves jQuery, Laravel & HTML, and another that uses Angular, both of which use an API to deliver dynamic data to the user.

In my time here I've also worked on a few different projects one of which involved web-sockets and delivering video data to a user, all while maintaining a good playback and loading time.

2020- NOW

FULL-STACK DEVELOPER

NEWROCO, IASI

In my current position I manage multiple webapps, most of which are built using VueJS and Laravel. I have also built, deployed and debugged 3 apps which have now reached a steady and continuous deployment phase, one of which offers offline support with a database as well, and the option for the data to be automatically pushed once the user comes online.

EDUCATION

2014 - 2019

BACHELOR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

UNIVERSITY OF AUTOMATICS, CRAIOVA, ROMANIA

During my university years I've focused on freelancing early on, and then later I've moved my interests towards larger projects. I mostly enjoyed the seminars which involved working in teams and delivering larger scale projects, for I felt that there I could be more dynamic and my spectral of knowledge could be broaden much faster and in the directions in which I or the team chose.

ABOUT ME

I'm a web developer, and I also second as an entrepreneur/freelancer for more than 5 years now. These 5 years have changed my perception about the entire web development process, and by having to both build it while in the meantime having oversight the entire project requires greater attention to detail and planning skills. When I'm free I go for a stroll around the block or travel to a new place and see what it has to offer.
